INTER-CRYSTAL COMMUNICATION by Marcel Vogel

This paper will deal with the work that we have done in the past few months using one crystal which has been programmed with thought and projecting this program to another crystal in a remote location, in this case, an adjacent room. We wanted to see if the information stored in one crystal could be transferred to a second crystal. This information was to be extracted by spinning fluids around the second crystal and measuring these fluids for informational content. The results of our experimental work to date show that we have been able to accomplish this objective, obtaining identical results of informational codes stored in both crystals.

We next erased the second crystal, and ran water around it to establish a blank base line. Then we transmitted from the first crystal the same data, again from a remote location, utilizing the Omega 5 Metatronics Machine as a transmitting vehicle.

The implication at this moment is that when a signal is generated by one crystal, that signal can be broadcast to other crystals. We will be studying, in subsequent weeks, the effect of distance and other factors which could possibly interfere with this type of informational transfer. This very much resembles the experiment that was done by myself using a Philodendron wired to a polygraph in which a signal was transmitted from Prague, Czechoslovakia to San Jose, Calif., and is shown in the following diagram. This was published in the article "Man-Plant Communication," in a book edited by the astronaut Captain Edgar Mitchell, Psychical Exploration, A Challenge for Science (G.P. Putnam's Sons, N.Y., 1974).

In this work I was dealing with two living systems, my own mind and the vital activity of a plant. Now we have, in contrast, two crystals cut to equivalent shapes and we find that a unit or quantum of consciousness can be imprinted in one crystal and transferred at will by means of a 7.8 Hz signal to another crystal. This opens up vast opportunities for new forms of communication and research into crystals as mind transducers.

This work is in the beginning phases where we have started with the 6-, 8-, and 13-sided crystals, and combinations of these as senders and receivers. From this research our laboratory has put together a paper entitled "The Structuring of Fluidic Materials by Crystals" By Marcel Vogel, Jennét Grover and Birthe Madsen. This paper was presented at the recent U.S. Psychotronics Conference given July 22, 1988, at the Bergamo Retreat Center in Dayton, Ohio, under the title "The Structuring of Water by Crystals."

Once the ability for sending information is evolved, the next stage of receiving information is opened up and ideas are in house now for transducers for the bioenergetic fields stored in crystals to be converted to other forms of electromagnetic energy. We have just seen the tip of the iceberg for the utilization of crystals and crystal devices as informational storage and transfer systems. As deForest discovered the ability to take an electrical charge and amplify it in a vacuum tube, so we have found in our laboratory the ability to take a quantum of energy of mind and amplify and transfer this signal in space to another crystal and have that crystal act on matter being spun around it.

One of the prime indicators we have used is the transposition that takes place in wine when spun around a programmed crystal. We can achieve identical results in finishing a wine with a single pass around a programmed crystal as well as the same program transferred remotely to this same crystal. The taste of the wine is identical in both cases.

We can observe a change of pH in water, from a pH of 5.0 to 8.0 with one pass, and we get the same result when we treat the water remotely. When we measure with radionic equipment the subtle energies in the fluidic material, be it water or wine, the results are identical for both forms of treatment.

Many years ago, I awoke in the morning and heard a voice speaking within me which said, "Records are written in stone." We are now learning how to write these records and store them for all time to come. Once written, it requires but a sensitive enough mind to feel this vibration, tune in with love, and the record is forthcoming. With our thoughts, we, too, are imprinting matter each day of our lives — we imprint our clothing, our jewelry, our home, our work and our environment. The nature of this imprinting is what we are studying here in our laboratory so as to understand the wonderful gift given by God to man to create with his mind a thought, to have this thought take form and reflect himself as it grows and develops in time. Man is made to the image and likeness of God. We are here to continue the acts of creation. God be with you all.

Re-elected

Marcel Vogel has been re-elected to the Board of Directors of the U.S. Psychotronics Association. He lectured to this group in July of this year.

When Marcel was asked why he chose to use the name "Psychic Research" for his laboratory, he said: "I chose it so that I would be left alone."

It is not in the experimentation, but it is in the knowing how to reflect on what you are doing and what it means."

WHICH CRYSTAL SHOULD I CHOOSE?

by Jennét Grover

Those attending Marcel Vogel workshops (or those of some of our certified crystal practitioners) in the last year or so may have noticed that Marcel has been regularly using a 13-sided crystal cut to the same basic shape geometry as the 6- and 8-sided Vogel-cuttm crystals. We have been researching and studying the effects of crystals cut to 7, 9, 11, 12 and 13 sides and have been repeatedly asked what the differences and advantages are for each of these crystals, and how to choose the crystal that is right for you. Let us start with the basics.

The difference between a 4-, 6-, and 8-sided crystal (and so on) is its storage charge capacity, or energy potential. An 8-sided crystal tightens the internal energy spin (more than a 4- or 6-sided crystal) allowing the crystal to exude a laser-like beam of energy. This is analogous to putting a tight spin on a football when it is thrown, causing the football to travel a more direct trajectory. We cannot conclusively state the exact nature of each of the above mentioned multi-sided crystals in terms of esoteric qualities, but we will share with you what information we have gathered to date.

The 4-, 6-, and 8-sided healing crystals are excellent for all therapeutic applications, the 4-sided being more gentle or subtle in its energy than the 6-sided or 8-sided, which tend to be more intense or penetrating.

Although I have seen Marcel and certain highly skilled others using 9-, 11-, 12-, and 13-sided crystals for healing applications, this is not usually recommended. The higher frequency outputs of these crystals (which are often of a larger size also) are best suited for the purpose of channeling higher energies.

Crystals are energy transformers, allowing the human body to accept higher energies without causing body damage. As a result, energies may be utilized that would normally be out of the human beings' comfort range, energies that can receive information from higher sources for channeling and/or healing purposes. The Vogel-cuttm crystals are unusual in that they are specially tuned transceivers, with faces symmetrically designed and tips custom-tuned to the individual and with regards to information known regarding pyramid angle energies for maximum functioning.

Some people have chosen 7-sided crystals because of the 7 chakras, or energy centers of the body. Some have chosen the 11-sided because it is a prime number. People seem to deliberate when deciding between the 12- and 13-sided crystal, but what we have noticed is that people who are generally more structurally oriented, left-brain thinkers tend to prefer using the 12-sided crystal. Numerologically, the 12 is a 3 and also is composed of 4's and 3's, both foundation, structure type numbers. The 13 is a prime number, yet also a 4, providing a solid base, and seems to be preferred by those more intuitively or right-brain inclined. The one thing that the 9's through the 13's all seem to have in common is their ability to help the operator cohere his energies in a manner that helps him to achieve a clarity and quality of information that had he not received to date. These are certainly not hard-core statistics, just observations on small samples of people, as we have not distributed large numbers of these crystals to date. We always welcome additional input from users.

Having experimented with all of these crystals, I find that there are times when I prefer using one crystal and times when I prefer using another, which leads us to how you go about choosing a particular crystal. I always give the same advice. If you have never worked with any crystals before, I recommend that you choose a 4- or 6-sided. If you have worked a year or two with natural uncut crystals, I suggest a 4, 6, or an 8. If you have worked with one or more of these for a year or two and feel strongly in touch with your higher self (spiritually connected), then I would think about a 9-, 11-, 12-, or 13-sided crystal.

IN ALL CASES, communicate with your higher self. Ask, "Which crystal should I choose that will serve for my highest possible good?" If you do not receive a direct answer, ask every day and/or wait a few days and see if the answer comes to you in some other form (an inspiration from a book, a friend, etc.). You might try kinesiology by holding the crystal at the witness area and having someone else test your muscle response. If you still do not receive an answer or if you are in doubt about the answer you do receive, I would suggest a 4- or 6-sided, or possibly none until you are more sure. The greatest benefit of using these crystals is to help connect you with your higher self on a more conscious level. Healing is simply the sharing of love, which is the level of the higher self, and the total self, in its purest form.

OUR CRYSTALLINE EARTH — Part III

by Bob Crane

In previous newsletters, I discussed the possibility that underground nuclear blasts could damage the earth to the point where massive surface disturbances would occur. I also said that there is something that could be done about this impending calamity.

The earth's mantle is composed of many types of crystalline substances. Gravity is produced as electron resonances vibrate throughout this mass of crystal. The actual electron does not move through the crystal, as crystal is normally a resistor to the motion of electrons, but the energy equivalent is determined by Einstein's equation relating mass and energy, $E = mc^2$. When electromagnetic energy of this magnitude oscillates through a crystal, it takes the place of the actual electron (in effect substituting energy for mass), and it can be said that the electron is moving through the crystal. This movement of "virtual electrons" or "mass-energy electrons" produces the phenomenon of superconduction, as the electron is turned into light energy and moved through the crystal as a beam of light instead of as an actual particle.

Superconduction is one effect that occurs in the mantle of the earth, but we are concerned with its opposite reaction, the gravitational field. Gravity is a nuclear force at a large distance. Normally, the weak nuclear force only acts between the atoms in a single molecule to hold them together, but in a crystal, this force may be brought out of the single molecule to hold the entire group of crystalline molecules together. This is the reason that crystal is so hard in comparison to other substances. But the same force that makes a crystal hard and gives it structural strength can be amplified with electromagnetic or sound energies that are resonant to the crystal to produce a gravitational or "long range nuclear" force field with the crystal.

The nuclear blasts disrupt the gravitational functioning of the mantle and convert some of this force into heat, but some of it puts a wobble into the earth's rotation and into its orbit around the sun as well. These wobbles have a wave frequency which will repeat as the next node of the wave comes around again at some time in the future, so the effects of these blasts will come back to us as a form of "gravitational karma" in the future. These future times have been the subject of a great deal of prophecy, but they have a basis in reality as the effects of these blasts are known and have been analyzed on other planes of thought and consciousness.

The only way in which the effects of these blasts can be counteracted is with large oscillators that are constructed of crystalline materials. They will consist of large condenser tubes, between 10 and 25 feet in diameter, that are shaped like sea shells. At the terminating end of these tubes will be large, specially cut crystals, which will be resonated into the tubes. The effects of the operation of these oscillators will be to heal the wounds that have been caused by the nuclear blasts by demodulating or "spreading out" the very sharp or "spiked" frequency patterns that these blasts have produced. These harmful frequency patterns are still vibrating throughout the interior of the earth and within its orbital motions as well.

The "returning energy" that will condition our future is controlled to some degree by the orbital frequencies of the major planets, particularly Jupiter and Saturn, and to some degree by the earth's moon. As the nuclear blast shakes the earth, it produces a wobble in its motion, and when the earth goes by another planet, some of this wobble is transferred to it because of the magnetic resonance between the planetary magnetospheres. The wobble periodically distorts the earth's magnetosphere or "Van Allen Belts" where large amounts of electrical energy are stored in the form of charged particles. This regular distortion sends out power MHD (magnetohydrodynamic) pulses, a form of charged sound wave, into space. When this wave encounters another planet, it will transfer its energy into the planetary magnetosphere and that in turn will cause the planet to wobble with the earth. Eventually, all of the planets in our solar system, taken together, will determine when the nuclear blast energy will return in the future.

The crystal oscillators must be placed at certain locations around the surface of the earth. These locations have become known as holy sites, one of them being the site of the Great Pyramid at Giza in Egypt. They will be discussed in a future newsletter.

THE OMEGA 5 METATRONICS MACHINE

The Omega 5 produces a low frequency wave that is transmitted by an antenna which has been built into the machine. The operator can choose a frequency ranging from a 2 Hz to a 156 Hz signal. The second part is a LC circuit which modulates the signal to different frequencies by using a series of nine resistors and two capacitors. The substance to be analyzed is placed in a well. The well is wound with a pick-up coil which is then hooked to the resistors and capacitors where the modulations take place because of changes in capacitance. The low Hertz signal from the antenna is picked up by the coil around the well.

The operator changes the capacitance and resistance of the circuit by turning the POTs (potentiometers) and then tries to sense the changes in electrical skin conductivity which produce the phenomenon of a "stick." The resonance that occurs between the pick-up coil and the capacitors and resistors produces the increase in charge which results in this "stick." The operator plays an integral part in the functioning of this system.

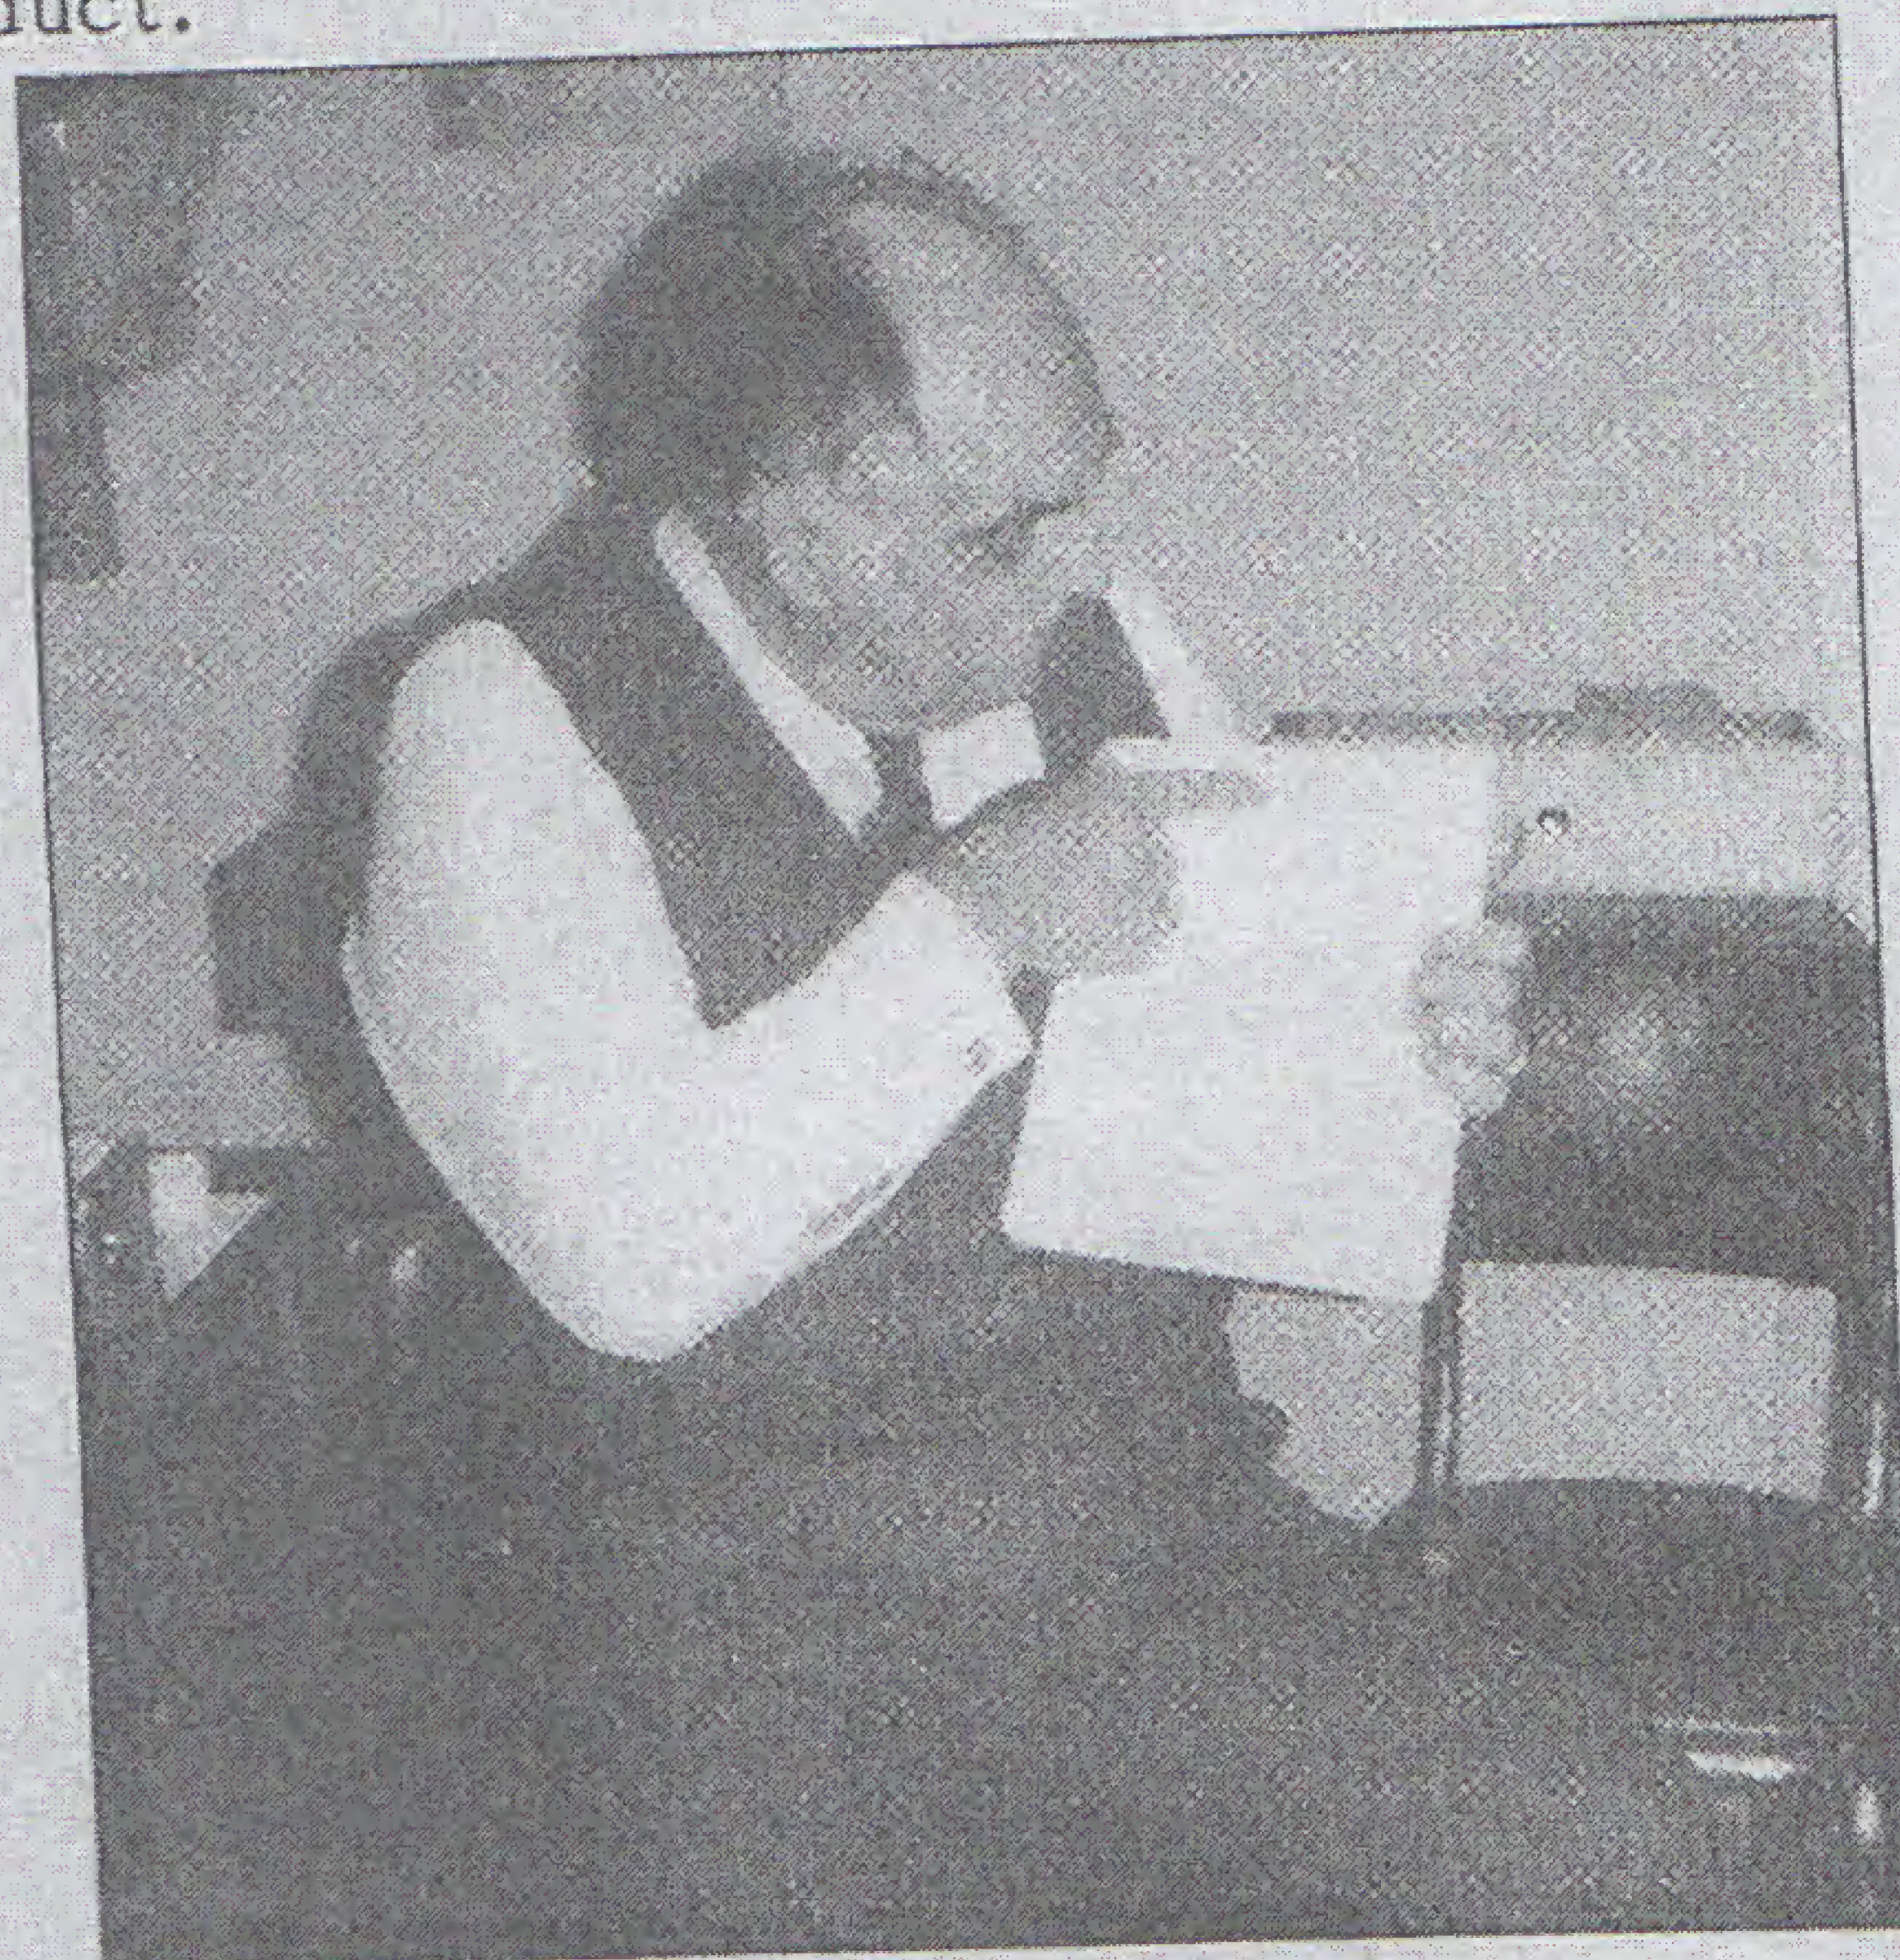

A "stick" may be defined as an increase in friction between the fingers and the sensing area or rubbing plate. The rubbing plate is a printed circuit coil or the white plastic surface which has an amplified signal put through it from the tuned LC circuit. Some of the units have now been designed with the circuit coil beneath the white plastic top, although the operator still rubs the same area and obtains the same "stick." One can hear the oscillation by using a telephone listening device over the rubbing area. The color unit of the Omega 5 transmits frequencies that are exactly 10 octaves below the frequency of each color on the color selector dial. Octave-subharmonics are defined by the series: $1/2, 1/4, 1/8, 1/16, \dots, 1/2^n$. For the Omega 5, "n" is equal to 10 (the tenth subharmonic). Thus, the color frequencies are $1/1024$ th of the actual frequencies of the seven colors (red, orange, yellow, green, blue, violet and indigo).

This machine is an experimental device designed to measure the fields in crystals and other objects. We do not make any claims that this device is effective in the treatment of disease or other human ailments. We are not in the business of treating people and/or teaching people to treat people.

At this point we are simply doing research on this machine and although we can tell you what it does, we cannot tell you exactly how it does it. P.R.I. makes no claims as to the abilities of this product.

EXPERIMENTS

Experiment #64: TRANSFERRING AN IMAGE TO A CRYSTAL

Materials Required:

A 4-, 6-, or 8-sided Vogel-cut_{tm} Meditation or Healing Crystal (a natural uncut crystal is second best)

Another person

Keep the other person unaware of what you are going to be programming into the crystal. Hold the crystal in your left hand (if you are right handed) after clearing it. Draw your breath in and create in your mind a dynamic, vital image, such as that of a ripe banana, a chocolate chip cookie, a piece of candy, a cup of coffee, or the like. When this image is clear and developed in your mind's eye, pulse your breath (expel your breath forcibly through your nostrils) and release it into the crystal.

Now give the crystal to the other person. Tell him to breathe in and tune into the crystal, and to record his experience.

Repeat the same procedure with the opposite hand to see if there is any amplification of the stored signal. When this works, the stored signal will come through as a clear telepathic image.

Experiment #65: TRANSFER OF INFORMATION FROM ONE CRYSTAL TO ANOTHER

Materials Needed:

2 crystals exactly matched in shape and dimension (preferably Vogel-cut_{tm})

Another person

Have the other person hold one of the crystals and go into another room. Take the other crystal (again, both crystals have been cleared first) and project an image through your crystal to the crystal of the other person. If both of you record your projections, you can send several images before comparing notes.

Try the same experiment, but this time put the crystals down on tables nearby each of you and observe the difference in the strength of the signal. Again, record the results. We are always interested in hearing from our readers regarding their research. Please assist us and let us know how you did.

BOOK REVIEWS

TALKING WITH NATURE by Michael J. Roads, H.J. Kramer Inc. Tiburon, Calif. 1987.

This book is an extraordinary journey into the heart and soul of nature. "Michael Roads has always been close to nature and when one day a river started talking to him, he began to doubt his sanity. Then there followed a series of encounters with the natural world, each more startling than the last. First it was a heron. Next it was Silence. Then it was a whole flock of birds. Finally, he learned to let go and allowed these presences to take him where they would. He found himself led stage by stage to a final wisdom, remarkable in its simplicity and its message of hope for mankind."

I, too, was taken into nature and learned to talk to the plants, the philodendron, the beautiful houseplant. As I approached a plant that way and drew my breath in, a flowing of energy took place and I became one with that plant and a language evolved which was not words, but a universal language of healing. We are One with all nature through our feeling body. Through the sound of nature we became One with her and so, too, here in this wonderful man's book we are led into nature's sounds.

It is a joy to read this, to contemplate how much we have to learn from nature if we but learn to let go, go within and let the forces of nature talk to us. This is a very wonderful, highly recommended book.

VIBRATIONAL MEDICINE: New Choices for Healing Ourselves by Richard Gerber, M.D. Bear & Co. Santa Fe, N.M. 1988.

This is a book on energetic medicine and it covers the fields of Homeopathic Remedies, crystal healing, flower essences, therapeutic touch, acupuncture, radionics, herbal medicine, psychic healing, electrotherapy and therapeutic radiology.

Dr. Gerber is a medical doctor who, for the last 12, years has been researching alternative methods for diagnosis and healing, including the use of Kirlian photography for cancer detection. A summary of his work is contained in this book.

This is a good book to get an overview of these types of energetics and offers the reader the ability to take much of this information and put it to work. There is an excellent series of books listed at the end of each chapter and I deeply recommend that you read some of these additional books to fill in and broaden the information covered in his book.

WHY IS THIS HAPPENING TO ME AGAIN? by Dr. Michael Ryce, 600 N.W. 28 St. Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

These are two video tapes packaged in a book form that give an understanding of the human energy system, healing guilt and fear, how the mind works, how to forgive, how to form healing relationships. According to Dr. Ryce (who attended our Florida workshop) it is a unique synthesis of science, psychology, psychiatry, theology and ancient languages that offer practical tools with which to end recurring life patterns. These are tools with which life can be totally recreated. The two video volumes sell for $100. He is a very dynamic, powerful individual.

This book gives the story of a remarkable young man, George Anderson, and his ability to communicate with those on the other side messages and information that is of an extremely challenging nature. I think it is wonderful. I quote from George Anderson himself: "I want people to understand that life is everlasting. Everything that happens in your life has a purpose. No one you are close to ever dies."

If we could all accept that, what a wonderful blessing that would be for so many of us who lose our dear ones through transition. If we can re-establish the feeling of contact with them, how much greater that feeling becomes of joy, of communication.

JOURNEY INTO THE WORLD OF METAPHYSICS - Vol. I and Vol. II, by Dr. Joseph S. Chiappalone, The Center of Knowledge and Supremacy, Brown Prior Anderson Pty Ltd., Burwood Victoria, Australia, 1987.

This book gives a set of knowledge which can be helpful for those who are seekers of truth. Dr. Chiappalone's writing is a little difficult, feeling very much like the writing of Alice Bailey at times, but if one takes the time and carefully reads it, one will obtain cores of knowledge which will benefit anyone seeking an overall deeper understanding of metaphysics.

There comes that mysterious meeting in Life, when someone acknowledges who we are and what we can be, igniting the circuits of our highest potential. I see this as the appearance of an angel, and know it to be a moment of Grace.

RADIATION PROTECTION

The following article was excerpted from a wonderful booklet written by Lita Lee, a PhD. chemist who is currently playing an active role in current research at P.R.I.

"The substances below are recommended for their ability to absorb and/or neutralize radiation. Very little research is available on some of these items. I have listed all the references I could find.

"1. CRYSTALS: Certain crystals are reported to absorb radiation. Dr. Marcel Vogel reported to me in a recent telephone interview that smokey quartz, in particular, absorbs high energy radiation and will also protect from high voltage sources. He says you can actually measure the amount of radiation absorbed into the crystal lattice. Further, he says that wearing a smokey quartz crystal would protect the wearer. To clean the crystal, flash it with red light at 6000 to 7000 Angstrom units or an infrared light for several seconds."

Lita Lee has published health-related articles in: Health Consciousness Journal, The Doula Magazine and Health World Magazine in addition to writing four other booklets: On Herpes, Hair Mineral Analysis, Colorectal Cancer and Health Risk Appraisal. Her career objective, which she certainly seems to be fulfilling, is to use her skills in science, chemistry, medicine, clinical nutrition and writing to improve the quality of life through research and the development and application of useful, harmless products.

This booklet is available for $5 plus $1 postage and handling directly from Lita Lee, 2061 Hampton Ave., Redwood City, Calif. 94061. (415) 368-2554.

We will be running a special article elaborating on this topic in our next newsletter.
